

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATED

Several Local Saloon Keepers
Summoned to Federal Court.

REVENUE AGENTS BUSY

Charged That Barkeepers Have Been Selling Liquor Which Did Not Come
Up to Standard—Law Will be Enforced.

It was learned yesterday that as the result of a recent visit of United States internal revenue inspectors to this city, several local saloon keepers were summoned this week to appear in the United States District Court at Norfolk to answer charges of violating the United States laws regulating the whiskey traffic. The names of all of those summoned could not be ascertained last night, but it is said that John Mitchell, who keeps a saloon on Eighteenth street, and Hammet Grubbs, who conducts a bar at Warwick avenue and Twenty-third street, were among the half dozen on whom summonses were served.

Some of the saloon keepers are charged with violating the retail license law by selling liquor in larger quantities than allowed under a government retailer's license. Others are charged with selling whiskey which did not come up to the standard prescribed by the federal law and still others are charged with failure to destroy the government stamp on packages at the time such packages were opened.

The Cofor Company, Inc., of this city, recently was indicted at Norfolk by a federal grand jury for alleged failure to destroy the stamp on packages when such packages were opened and this case is now pending in court. The saloon men summoned this week are said to have been released on bond for trial at some future date.

The federal authorities are seeing to it that all of the federal laws regarding the liquor traffic are strictly enforced and the government inspectors are said to have been making frequent visits to this city of late.

Heavy fines are provided for violations of the retail stamp destroying and adulterating laws.

TOLSTOI LAID TO REST
UNDER "POVERTY OAK"Peasants Lead Procession at Funeral of the Great Russian Author.

(By Associated Press.)
TULA, Nov. 22.—Throughout the night and during the early hours of today special trains at Zaseika, the railway station near Yasnaya Polyana estate, bore delegations to the funeral of Count Leo Tolstoy.

Following Tolstoy's written request, his grave has been made under "Poverty Oak," in the spot where "in childhood we buried a green rocking horse."

This reference was to an episode in the early life of Tolstoy and his brothers, who, with childish rites, consigned to the earth a hobby horse in the belief that when it was disinterred a reign of happiness would be inaugurated. The novelist often referred to the disposition of his body, and in directions left specified explicitly that the ceremony incident thereto should be "of the simplest, without the rites of the orthodox church."

The special train bringing the body from Astapova arrived at the Zaseika station at 8 o'clock this morning. The funeral party was met by throngs of mourning peasants.

According to the Russian custom, Tolstoy's sons were the bearers and carried the casket on their shoulders over the two miles separating the station from the novelist's home at Yasnaya Polyana.

The way was lined with mourners. Peasants marched at the head of the procession, carrying white banners inscribed, "Leo Nikolayevich," the memory of your goodness will never fade from the minds of us orphaned peasants."

Arriving at the house the cortege halted and the casket was borne within and placed upon a catafalque erected in the author's favorite room. Here in the old home from which Tolstoy fled twelve days ago, to seek the solitude that was to be denied him, the body lay in state. Just before sunset the casket was carried to

Search for Missing Man.

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 22.—The police have been requested to institute a search for Joseph Rogers, 50 years old, who left his home at 1717½ Venable street, November 10, to go to Washington, and who has not been heard from since.

According to Mrs. Rogers, who called at the police headquarters, it was her husband's intention to return to Richmond the following day. She fears he may have met with foul play.

BEST GAME OF SEASON
IS EXPECTED TONIGHTA. & M. College Basketball
Team to Meet Y. M. C. A.
Five.

When the basketball team of the Young Men's Christian Association stacks up against the strong five of the Agricultural & Mechanical College of North Carolina at the association building at 8:30 o'clock tonight, local enthusiasts expect to see the best game of the season. The visiting team and its rosters will arrive here this afternoon from Raleigh and will be quartered at the Warwick hotel.

Manager Cameron has decided to send Lenz, Vann, Monroe, Cottrell and Captain Hamilton against the visitors at the start and the men will go in with instructions to play hard and fast. This team has shown up wonderfully well thus far this year and with a fast string of substitutes to replace any of the first-line men who may be hurt, the local rosters believe that the home team will whip the visitors.

However, A. & M. is said to have a five team and the indications are that the struggle will be close and fast from the start. The visitors will have plenty of supporters as many members of the local North Carolina Club will be on hand to cheer them on. The record crowd of the year is expected and there will be accommodation for all in the new bleacher seats recently erected in the gymnasium.

MAY BEGIN ARGUMENT IN INSURANCE CASE TODAY

Judge Barham Expected to Rule On Instructions When Court Reconvenes.

Counsel in the insurance case will begin addressing the jury this morning if Judge Barham is ready to rule on the instructions when the Corporation Court convenes. The Southampton county juryman have been instructed to report for duty this morning, and the understanding when court adjourned Monday evening was that Judge Barham would pass upon the instructions submitted by counsel for the commonwealth and defense this morning if possible.

Most of the defendants are still in the city or vicinity, and practically all of them are expected to be in court when the argument begins.

Counsel probably will agree upon a time limit for the argument, though the commonwealth is not expected to consent to a limit of less than two days, which would give six hours or more to each side.

UNION THANKSGIVING
SERVICE WILL BE HELD

Rev. W. G. Starr, D. D., to Address
Gathering at First Presbyterian Church.

A union Thanksgiving service will be held at the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock this evening under the auspices of the Newport News Ministerial Union. Rev. W. G. Starr, D. D., pastor of Trinity Methodist church, will deliver the sermon and special music will be rendered by a choir picked from the singers of several of the churches.

An offering is to be taken for the Associated Charities. This will be the first appeal made by the Associated Charities for funds this winter, but the organization has much work in hand now that winter is on its way and the funds which do the work are very small.

AMUSEMENTS

Good houses saw the Olympic show last night and the entire bill seemed to please immensely. "Noodles" Fagan repeated his success of Monday. In vaudeville his act is of the snappy, rapid-fire sort, with just a touch of pathos in a dramatic recital, that shows his versatility as an entertainer. Tonight he has some special material for the local lodge of Elks, who will attend the Olympic's 9 o'clock show in a body.

Burns and Clara, at the Olympic this week have one of the best novelty gymnast acts ever seen here. The act closes with a most thrilling exhibition, the man spinning himself on a slack rope that the woman supports with one arm.

In the act of Dorothea Read & Co., Miss Madge Hughes, a singing comedienne, came in for her share of the honors.

A new program of motion pictures will be offered at the Olympic today. Three prizes will be drawn for today—one at the matinee and a first and second prize at the end of the first night show.

Thanksgiving at the Granby. Probably there will be hundreds of people from Newport News and other points on the Peninsula who will spend Thanksgiving Day in Norfolk, and it is safe to assume that many of these will want to see Jay L. Packard's splendid production of Preston Gibson's Southern society comedy-drama, "The Turning Point," which is the attraction this week at the Granby Theatre. As usual, there will be a Thanksgiving Day matinee, at which an unusually large audience is expected, and on account of the holiday, night prices will prevail. There will also be performances each evening for the remainder of the week, and the usual matinee on Saturday afternoon.

"The Turning Point," which recently completed a successful run at the Hackett Theatre, New York, had its initial production in Norfolk Monday evening. Since then it has been seen by large and delighted audiences, and the people have spoken in the highest terms of the play and players. It is a play of intense interest, especially to Virginians.

The first act of the play is laid at Hampton Farms, near Alexandria, Va. The atmosphere and characters are said to be true to life, and the story to be a consistent heart tale of every day life carries conviction and pleases the audiences always, no matter how critical it may be.

DR. CRIPPEN PAYS PENALTY FOR CRIME

of Pentonville prison, which stands in one of the most dismal sections of London. It is probable that the execution will take place between eight and nine o'clock.

Public Executor Ellis, of Rothdale, who hanged a wife murderer at Liverpool this morning, arrived in London on the evening train. The scaffold erected today. A few tenements overlook the prison yard and to bar the tenants from a glimpse of the tragedy a big canvas screen has been put up before the gallows.

Will Bury Him in Quicklime. Only a small group of official witnesses will attend and every effort has been made to prevent the morbid curiosity from gathering in the neighborhood. Even the customary official announcement of the hanging is not likely to be posted until evening. The body, probably, will be buried in quicklime in the prison yard. This is the custom at the prison, although not in all English prisons. Father Carry, who has visited Crispin frequently, entered the prison at 6 o'clock this evening to spend the night with the condemned man. He will walk with Crispin to the scaffold.

An evening paper caused a sensation by flooding the city with placards that Crispin had made a written confession. Every one in a position to know denied this. Ethel Leneve said: "I was the last person to see Dr. Crispin. So far as my knowledge extends he has not made such a statement."

It was also reported that Crispin today wrote a statement for a Sunday paper, which bought a previous story of his. The paper, however, denies that it has his confession.

Miss Leneve Visits Him. Miss Leneve, at the request of the prisoner, paid a farewell visit to Crispin at Pentonville prison this afternoon. She reached the place in a closed carriage and was accompanied by an elderly man, who remained outside.

Miss Leneve remained for half an hour in the visitors' room with the doctor. During her stay the warders watched the condemned man closely. Crispin slept well last night and this morning ate a hearty breakfast.

TROUBLE SMOOTHED OVER.

Threatened Split Between Labor Unions is Averted.
(By Associated Press.)
ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 22.—A threatened split between the labor unions of the United States and Canada was smoothed over this afternoon by the action of President Samuel Gompers and his friends.

The discussion which, at times was heated, grew out of the report of the special committee of labor relations with Canada. This committee recommended the maintenance of the autonomy of international unions in Canada, which confers the sole right to the issuance of local union charters upon the Canadian trades and labor conditions and gives the Canadian provincial or central bodies the privilege of affiliating with the American Federation of Labor at discretion.

H. W. Miller Promoted.
(By Associated Press.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 22.—Henry W. Miller, of Raleigh, now assistant to First Vice-President Andrews, of the Southern Railway, has been appointed assistant to President Finley, of that road, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. The appointment becomes effective December 1, and Mr. Miller succeeds J. H. B. Thompson, resigned to accept the presidency of the Atlantic Coast Company.

Ready for Bribery Trial.
(By Associated Press.)
YAZOO CITY, MISS., Nov. 22.—At end of the second day a jury of twelve acceptable to the court has been found to hear the trial of L. C. Dulaney, charged with having bribed State Senator Theodore Bilbo to cast his ballot in the recent senatorial caucuses for the successful candidate, United States Senator Leroy Perry.
